Distributed with the London Evening Standard Tuesday 11 September 2018

Education & Schooling is a full-colour, tabloid-sized newspaper, distributed with The Evening Standard and packed with inspiration and advice for both parents and individuals looking to make the best educational choices available. Covering everything from pre-school, right through to secondary school and university or college, as well as further education later on in life.

This supplement is a must-read for those looking to consider the many educational options available for all ages from pre-school right through to going back to school in later life.

For parents with young children, Education & Schooling will offer tips and advice on how to choose and prepare your child for a pre-school, prep school or nursery. Meanwhile, the section on secondary schools will look at some of the best private and boarding schools in the UK, why they are highly regarded and the advantages of boarding.

Of course, many students will want to go on to continue their education at university, and Education & Schooling takes a look at some of the best options around the country to suit each kind of student. Many adults also want to continue learning later on in life, some to achieve specific or basic qualifications, and others for their own enjoyment or fulfillment.

To supplement their studies and to optimise their chances to get the best results possible, many students take on private tuition. This newspaper explores what kinds of different private tuition there are and what the benefits are.
